BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL IS CONSUMMATED TODAY

George S. Might Buys Valuable Site On Fifth Street

TO ERECT BUSINESS BLOCK

Three Story Modern Brick Structure to be Built During Year

One of the biggest real estate deals put through for years in Charleroi was consummated this morning, when the Charleroi Savings and Trust company sold to George S. Might, the McKean avenue merchant and news dealer, the plot of ground fronting on Fifth street between the Charleroi Savings and Trust company's building and the Mail building, and on Fallowfield avenue adjoining the Trust company building. The purchase price is not made public. Mr. Might intends to erect a fine business block on the site.

The plot fronts 50 feet on Fifth street and 100 feet deep. On Fallowfield avenue the lot is 25 feet in width and extends 30 feet back. It is at present occupied by Joseph Haube's florist store.

Mr. Might has not selected any plans for the business block he expects to build, but it will be a three story brick structure, fronting on both streets. The first floor will be devoted to two store rooms, which most likely will be arranged for either two separate compartments or one large room. The second floor will be arranged for office rooms, and the third floor converted into a hall.

According to Mr. Might there will be no delay in building, and work will be started as soon as plans and specifications can be prepared and the contract let. When finished the business block will be one of the handsomest in the town if present intentions are carried out.

The deal is an especially important one in the sense that it will mean a big improvement to the town, and close up a gap on Fifth street, that effectually will add to the appearance and enhance the value of other property in the neighborhood.

Strike Holds Back Matters

Section Men Off While Material for Moving Station Awaits Loading

A temporary setback has been given to work which was to have preceded this week in moving the old Charleroi railroad station, to make place for a better and more commodious structure by the strike of section men along the division. The strike occurred just at the time when lumber and other necessary articles were being loaded into cars at West Elizabeth for shipment here. Division engineer E. B. Wiseman expects to have material on the ground by the fore part of next week and then work will proceed.

TWO AUDITS NECESSARY

New Law Will Entail Extra Work to the Borough

TO MAKE REPORT MONDAY

At the monthly meeting of council to be held on next Monday evening it is likely that the auditor's report of the fiscal year, which ended February 28, will be presented. H. F. Parsons, one of the auditors, is engaged on the audit, and is doing the finishing work on it. The other auditors are J. G. Albright and Harry Hormell.

There will have to be two audits made this year, by reason of the change of State laws, changing elections and creating a more systematic method of conducting municipal affairs. The second audit will be made either for presentation the first of December or the first of January to be designated by the Legislature. About a year ago the borough changed the fiscal year so that it would close the last day of February. This was done to make the work better conform with changes made the first of March by council, and to establish a more systematic and satisfactory method of doing things.

Local sentiment is in favor of changing the date of reorganization of council and the subsequent business including the presentation of the auditors' report of the first of January.

New Park Projected

It is stated that the Western Maryland Railroad company, the new line that being constructed between Connelleville and Cumberland, has purchased a tract of land at Confluence, Somerset county, for a recreation park.

PLATE GLASS WORKS HAS BANNER MONTH

Record Making Production Attained During March By Local Plant—50,000 Square Feet Above Average

Under the superintendency of Hart Chandler, the Charleroi plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company is ending today the most successful month in its history. The production has been larger this month than at any period of similar extent before, and conditions generally have been exceptionally good.

The production of glass has been about 275,000 square feet during the month, or about 50,000 square feet above the average which is about 225,000 feet.

The pay this month totals about $85,000. This is fully $3,000 above the average. On an average 600 men were employed during the working month.

Miners Call Off Big Struggle

Pricedale and Charleroi Not To Play On Saturday

The baseball game scheduled between the Charleroi Coal Works and Pricedale for Saturday will not be played on account of the inclemency of the weather, which has not permitted either team to get sufficient practice for the struggle. This game will probably be postponed till April 15, as both teams are anxious to play.

FIVE ARE EXPELLED

Action Taken by Miners to Get Rid of Alleged Insurgents

MITCHELL MAKES ADDRESS

Five "insurgents" charged with being leaders and instigators in the conspiracy to destroy the organization of the mine workers.

Mine Workers organization at the convention in Pittsburg yesterday. This business constituted the main feature at the fourth days' meeting. The men are Michael Barry, Peter J. Burke, Jerry Carr, Henry O'Neil and Edward McKay.

President Francis Feehan asked the delegates to carefully consider their action before voting and not to expel the men until they reconsidered their actions, but the motion to expel carried unanimously.

John Mitchell, former national president of the United Mine Workers of America, made the chief address of yesterday. In his talk Mr. Mitchell scored those who, he said, are attempting to disrupt the organization. He praised the work of President Feehan, and prophesied harmony.

Resolutions condemning the State constabulary and urging Governor Tener and the Legislature to repeal the law creating it were passed unanimously.

Thomas L. Lewis, who was defeated for re-election as national president of the United Mine Workers, tonight retires from the presidency, and will return to work at the mines of the Lorain Coal and Dock company, at Bridgeport, where he holds a union card. He says he will not retire from activity in the miners' organization, and may be a candidate for the presidency again.

Farm to be Selected For Prison Somewhere in State

THE PITTSBURGH TROUBLE

City May Be "Lorowed" as American Type State

(Special Correspondence) Harrisburg, March 21.—As soon as it can be accomplished, Pennsylvania will have a penitentiary located in the open country where the prisoners may be put to work on a prison farm. Governor Tener has signed the bill for the removal of the western penitentiary to such a site, and funds have been appropriated to begin the work of construction when the site is selected and the plans decided.

Is Pittsburg to be "Lorowed" is now the absorbing topic at the State capital. Since the sensational hearing before the joint municipal committee by the Pittsburg delegation, which demanded a new charter under the so-called "Pittsburg Plan," there is a rumor that a Legislative investigating committee may be appointed to look into municipal affairs in Pittsburg after the manner that the celebrated Lester committee investigated New York at some time ago. At the present time political masters are "opening wide" in Pittsburg and Allegheny county, and a number of cities are likely to be tried under the microscope.

Where they are at. Having increased many salaries and created new positions it is now up to the Legislature to devise ways and means, and the proper ones are looking about to find something more to tax. A somewhat remarkable recommendation has been made that court-houses, county farms, jails and other county property be taxed. As this would be simply collecting taxes to hand them back again, it is difficult to see the advantage of levying such a tax. Another proposition is to amend the constitution so that an inheritance tax can be levied.

It is stated that the bill introduced in the State amending the Brooks law so that judges will be compelled to refuse license whenever the number of legal remonstrants are greater than the petitioners, will be reported out of committee, and will have to be fought out on the floor. This will make a show-down as to how the Senate stands on the temperance question, the same as the House was committed on local option.

Notice of Disolution

Who Will Protest?

In the proposed plan of road improvement to be attempted by the present Legislature, the State road from the county seat of Fayette to the county seat of Westmoreland county, that is to say from Uniontown to Greensburg, had in its original form passed by Everson and Scottdale. At a meeting of the Sproul committee in Harrisburg the bill was upon the insistence of Senator Crow, amended so that the route will be via Connellsville, Everson Scottdale and Mt Pleasant. Senator Crow eloquently protested against the side tracking of two such important towns as Everson and Scottdale in the construction of a State highway, and his protest was effective.

Charleroi is omitted from the original plan of improvement. Attention has been repeatedly called to this fact, but so far as known no effort has been made to change the route so as to include Charleroi. It is possible that if the proper effort were made the proposed plans might be altered so as to include the projected river boulevard; that is, a State road from the Allegheny county to the Greene county line, which would take in all the important river towns. This would be one of the most important thoroughfares in the State, and would benefit and accommodate probably more people than any other single route.

With Representatives Chas. A. Bentley and William Feeney in the Assembly the route should have some able advocates if the people affected will only show enough interest to make their desires and needs known.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

"Extensive improvements" are made some times more from the advertising to be gotten out of them than for the good really accomplished.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Out in the country, where the children hide eggs for Easter, a custom that town people know nothing about, a family was having quite a strife in this pastime. The youngest was a little girl six years old, who was beaten out by the older children future time. This is inevitable, finding eggs and hiding them. The as the wages for coal mining have little one complained to her mother been mounting steadily for several that she never could find any eggs years. This of course increases the cost of production, and already certain interests are at work to cheapen production by the use of machinery.

"I don't believe the hens laid any eggs at all today," she complained, "they're all standing around out there doing nothing."

"Will machinery play a more important part in coal mining in the future than at the present time?" repeated a prominent coal mining official recently, "most assuredly it will. In addition to cutting the coal by mechanical appliances, it will also be loaded by machinery at some

"A loading device will be about the next thing that will do away with hand labor in the mines. I know of several that have been tried, but they are crude and undeveloped and not adapted to the present system of mining. I believe that mine cars will be done away with entirely, and that moving platforms will take their place. Of course mines would have to be opened and engineered differently than now, but that can be easily accomplished. In my opinion the time is not far distant when very little hand work will be done in mining and loading coal."

Stories of the Paris Courts.

Among humorous stories of the Paris law courts it is told how a well known lawyer, M. Alem Rousseau was once pleading a rather tiresome case and, noticing that the judges were paying no attention to him, said, "As the president is falling asleep I suspend my speech." But the judge had just woke up and cried, "And I suspend you from practicing for six months." Nothing daunted, the lawyer retorted, "Well, I suspend myself forever and ever," and, gathering up his brief and cap, he left the court and never appeared again.

A Paris barrister, M. Clery, however, was more vigorous. Seeing that the president and the assessors were all asleep, he stopped, and, dealing a tremendous blow on the desk in front of him that woke everybody up with a start, he cried, "Yesterday at this same hour I was saying—" And the whole bench rubbed their eyes and asked each other if they had really slept through twenty-four hours.

The same counsel was pleading at Versailles on a cold day and remarked that the judges were all turning more and more around toward a stove that gave out a welcome heat. "The tribunal behind which I have the honor of speaking" brought them all right about face at once.

Jury Penalties

Nowadays no penalty is enforced when the twelve men chosen to form the jury are unable to agree upon a verdict. Formerly, however, a refractory jurymen was committed to prison and the verdict of the eleven was taken. In the reign of King Edward III. the judges decided that a verdict given by a majority was a nullity and recommended that the judges should carry the jury about with them in a cart till they should agree. The old custom that jurors should fast until they had agreed in their verdict prevailed long, but was mercifully relaxed somewhat in Tudor times, and during Queen Elizabeth's reign a banquet was usually given to the jury by the successful party to a suit—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Science and Cheese.

A medical authority kindly assures us that as long as cheese isn't decayed it will not affect the health of the consumer. This is a fact that we have suspected for a considerable time. But how is the ordinary cheese epicure to detect the difference unless he waits for results?

There is cheese so thoroughly disguised in the costume and aroma of decay that its proper standing on the sanitary testing table would puzzle a conjurer.

For instance, there is the brand known as Limburger. But why pursue the subject?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Domestic Economy.

"Hey, mon," exclaimed the braw, bonnie north countryman, "thrift is a wonderful thing!"

"Yes," replied his English traveling companion. "You're right there. Now, I gave my wife a ten pound note to manage on last time I was away, and—would you believe it?—instead of exceeding it she saved nearly a sovereign out of it to buy herself a hat!"

"That's now," replied the Scotsman. "My wife gives the kids ha'pennies apiece to go to bed supperless: when they're asleep she takes the ha'pennies off on 'em agean, and then she makes 'em do w/out any breakfast for losin' 'em! Hey, mon, that's thrift!"—London Scraps.

BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL IS CONSUMMATED TODAY

George S. Might Buys Valuable Site On Fifth Street

TO ERECT BUSINESS BLOCK

Three Story Modern Brick Structure to be Built During Year

One of the biggest real estate deals put through for years in Charleroi was consummated this morning, when the Charleroi Savings and Trust company sold to George S. Might, the McKean avenue merchant and news dealer, the plot of ground fronting on Fifth street between the Charleroi Savings and Trust company's building and the Mail building, and on Fallowfield avenue adjoining the Trust company building. The purchase price is not made public. Mr. Might intends to erect a fine business block on the site.

The plot fronts 50 feet on Fifth street and 100 feet deep. On Fallowfield avenue the lot is 25 feet in width and extends 30 feet back. It is at present occupied by Joseph Haube's florist store.

Mr. Might has not selected any plans for the business block he expects to build, but it will be a three story brick structure, fronting on both streets. The first floor will be devoted to two store rooms, which most likely will be arranged for either two separate compartments or one large room. The second floor will be arranged for office rooms, and the third floor converted into a hall.

According to Mr. Might there will be no delay in building, and work will be started as soon as plans and specifications can be prepared and the contract let. When finished the business block will be one of the handsomest in the town if present intentions are carried out.

The deal is an especially important one in the sense that it will mean a big improvement to the town, and close up a gap on Fifth street, that effectually will add to the appearance and enhance the value of other property in the neighborhood.

Strike Holds Back Matters

Section Men Off While Material for Moving Station Awaits Loading

A temporary setback has been given to work which was to have preceded this week in moving the old Charleroi railroad station, to make place for a better and more commodious structure by the strike of section men along the division. The strike occurred just at the time when lumber and other necessary articles were being loaded into cars at West Elizabeth for shipment here. Division engineer E. B. Wiseman expects to have material on the ground by the fore part of next week and then work will proceed.

TWO AUDITS NECESSARY

New Law Will Entail Extra Work to the Borough

TO MAKE REPORT MONDAY

At the monthly meeting of council to be held on next Monday evening it is likely that the auditor's report of the fiscal year, which ended February 28, will be presented. H. F. Parsons, one of the auditors, is engaged on the audit, and is doing the finishing work on it. The other auditors are J. G. Albright and Harry Hermell.

There will have to be two audits made this year, by reason of the change of State laws, changing elections and creating a more systematic method of conducting municipal affairs. The second audit will be made either for presentation the first of December or the first of January to be designated by the Legislature.

About a year ago the borough changed the fiscal year so that it would close the last day of February. This was done to make the work better conform with changes made the first of March by council, and to establish a more systematic and satisfactory method of doing things. Local sentiment is in favor of changing the date of reorganization of council and the subsequent business including the presentation of the auditors' report of the first of January.

PLATE GLASS WORKS HAS BANNER MONTH

Under the superintendency of Hart Chandler, the Charleroi plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company is ending today the most successful month in its history. The production has been larger this month than at any period of similar extent before, and conditions generally have been exceptionally good.

The production of glass has been about 275,000 square feet during the month, or about 50,000 square feet above the average which is about 225,000 feet.

The pay this month totals about $85,000. This is fully $3,000 above the average. On an average 600 men were employed during the working month.

The entertainment was given for the benefit of the school picnic fund.

Charleroi Man Has Prominent Part In Affair

MITCHELL MAKES ADDRESS

At the Italian Congress which is being held this week at Philadelphia, a well known Charleroi merchant and citizen is taking a prominent part. This is Frank Riva, the clothing and shoe agent of Fallowfield avenue. The congress is an especially important one to the Italians of Pennsylvania and the United States at large. The chief speaker yesterday was Giovanni Sella, of New York city. Last night a banquet was held, and speakers included Secretary Nagel of the Department of Commerce and Labor, Marquis de Buganna, president of the congress; Marquis Egrotto, secretary of the Italian Embassy, Lieutenant Governor John M. Reynolds, Mayor John E. Reyburn, United States Senator Boise Penrose, and a number of other well known personages. In last night's issue of the Philadelphia Telegraph a portrait of Mr. Riva, together with others was reproduced, as "Prominent Visitors to the Italian Congress."

Pricedale and Charleroi Not To Play On Saturday

The baseball game scheduled between the Charleroi Coal Works and Pricedale for Saturday will not be played on account of the inclemency of the weather, which has not permitted either team to get sufficient practice for the struggle. This game will probably be postponed till April 15, as both teams are anxious to play.

FIVE ARE EXPELLED

MITCHELL MAKES ADDRESS

Five "insurgents" charged with being leaders and instigators in the conspiracy to destroy the organization of the United Mine Workers organization at the convention in Pittsburgh yesterday. This business constituted the main feature at the fourth day's meeting. The men are Michael Barry, Peter J. Burke, Jerry Carr, Henry O'Neil and Edward McKay.

President Francis Feehan asked the delegates to carefully consider their action before voting and not to expel the men until they reconsidered their actions, but the motion to expel carried unanimously.

John Mitchell, former national president of the United Mine Workers of America, made the chief address of yesterday. In his talk Mr. Mitchell scored those who, he said, are attempting to disrupt the organization. He praised the work of President Feehan, and prophesied harmony.

Resolutions condemning the State constabulary and urging Governor Tener and the Legislature to repeal the law creating it were passed unanimously.

Thomas L. Lewis, who was defeated for re-election as national president of the United Mine Workers, tonight retires from the presidency, and will return to work at the mines of the Lorain Coal and Dock company, at Bridgeport, where he holds a union card. He says he will not retire from activity in the miners' organization, and may be a candidate for the presidency again.

Farm to be Selected For Prison Somewhere in State

THE PITTSBURGH TROUBLE

City May Be "Lexowed" As American True State Affairs

(Special Correspondence)

Harrisburg, March 31.—As soon as it can be accomplished, Pennsylvania will have a penitentiary located in the open country, where the prisoners may be put to work on a prison farm. Governor Tener has signed the bill for the removal of the western penitentiary to such a site, and funds have been appropriated to begin the work of construction when the site is selected and the plans decided.

In Pittsburgh to be "Lexowed" is now the absorbing topic at the State capital. Since the sensational hearing before the joint municipal committee by the Pittsburgh delegation, which demands a new charter, under the so-called "Pittsburgh Plan," there is a rumor that a Legislative investigating committee may be appointed to hear into municipal affairs in Pittsburgh after the manner that the celebrated Lexow committee investigated New York city some time ago. At the present time political matters are somewhat wide open, in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county, and legislative action is likely to be delayed until the summer months, and out where they are at.

Having increased many salaries and created new positions it is now up to the Legislature to devise ways and means, and the proper ones are looking about to find something more to tax. A somewhat remarkable recommendation has been made that court-houses, county farms, jails and other county property be taxed. As this would be simply collecting taxes to hand them back again, it is difficult to see the advantage of levying such a tax. Another proposition is to amend the constitution so that an inheritance tax can be levied.

It is stated that the bill introduced in the State amending the Brooks law so that judges will be compelled to refuse license whenever the number of legal remonstrants are greater than the petitioners, will be reported out of committee, and will have to be fought out on the floor. This will make a show-down as to how the Senate stands on the temperance question, the same as the House was committed on local option.

Who Will Protest?

In the proposed plan of road improvement to be attempted by the present Legislature, the State road from the county seat of Fayette to the county seat of Westmoreland county, that is to say from Uniontown to Greensburg, had in its original form passed by Everson and Scottdale. At a meeting of the Sproul committee in Harrisburg the bill was upon the insistence of Senator Crow, amended so that the route will be via Connellsville, Everson, Scottdale and Mt Pleasant. Senator Crow eloquently protested against the side tracking of two such important towns as Everson and Scottdale in the construction of a State highway, and his protest was effective.

Charleroi is omitted from the original plan of improvement. Attention has been repeatedly called to this fact, but so far as known no effort has been made to change the route so as to include Charleroi. It is possible that if the proper effort were made the proposed plans might be altered so as to include the projected river boulevard; that is, a State road from the Allegheny county to the Greene county line, which would take in all the important river towns. This would be one of the most important thoroughfares in the State, and would benefit and accommodate probably more people than any other single route.

With Representatives Chas. A. Bentley and William Feeney in the Assembly the route should have some able advocates if the people affected will only show enough interest to make their desires and needs known.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

"Extensive improvements" are made some times more from the advertising to be gotten out of them than for the good really accomplished.

A Connellsville man stepped in a basket of eggs and broke 48 of them. Didn't the poor fellow know they were high priced?

Adam Ide
Drank hard cider and died.

Writing epitaphs is a disagreeable profession of some would-be poets, trying to get a reputation for brilliancy by means of the dead.

Governor Woodrow Wilson will doubtless provide some good thinking down in New Jersey, even he doesn't do anything else.

England may burlesque American millionaires on the stage, but she still sends their lords, barons, et cetera, across the sea to marry their daughters.

Some diplomats are diplomats in name only.

The boy in New York who is afflicted with the suicide mania will stand a good chance some day of getting a good spanking if he doesn't behave.

It rather looks as though somebody in the miner's organization is going to get mightily disappointed. And that some person isn't going to be Francis Feehan, unless indications lie.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Out in the country, where the children hide eggs for Easter, a custom that town people knew nothing about, a family was having quite a strife in this pastime. The youngest was a little girl six years old, who was beaten out by the older children future time. This is inevitable, finding eggs and hiding them. The as the wages for coal mining have little one complained to her mother been mounting steadily for several that she never could find any eggs years. This of course increases the about the bars, while the others found cost of production, and already car- lots of them. The mother told her tain interests are at work to cheapen to go out and make a search in the production by the use of machinery.

"I don't believe the hens said any eggs at all today," she complained, "they're all standing around out there doing nothing."

"Will machinery play a more important part in coal mining in the future than at the present time?" repeated a prominent coal mining official recently, "most assuredly it will. In addition to cutting the coal by mechanical appliances, it will also be loaded by machinery at some next thing that will do away with hand labor in the mines. I know of several that have been tried, but they are crude and undeveloped and not adapted to the present system of mining. I believe that mine cars will be done away with entirely, and that moving platforms will take their place. Of course mines would have to be opened and engineered differently than now, but that can be easily accomplished. In my opinion the time is not far distant when very little hand work will be done in mining and loading coal."

Stories of the Paris Courts.
Among humorous stories of the Paris law courts it is told how a well known lawyer, M. Aleu Rousseau was once pleading a rather dramatic case and, noticing that the judges were paying no attention to him, said, "As the president is falling asleep I suspend my speech." But the judge had just woke up and cried, "And I suspend you from practicing for six months." Nothing daunted, the lawyer retorted, "Well, I suspend myself forever and ever," and, gathering up his brief and cap, he left the court and never appeared again.

A Paris barrister, M. Clerly, however, was more vigorous. Seeing that the president and the assessors were all asleep, he stopped, and, dealing a tremendous blow on the desk in front of him that woke everybody up with a start, he cried, "Yesterday at this same hour I was saying"—And the whole bench rubbed their eyes and asked each other if they had really slept through twenty-four hours.

The same counsel was pleading at Versailles on a cold day and remarked that the judges were all turning more and more around toward a stove that gave out a welcome heat. "The tribunal behind which I have the honor of speaking" brought them all right about face at once.

Jury Penalties

Nowadays no penalty is enforced when the twelve men chosen to form the jury are unable to agree upon a verdict. Formerly, however, a refractory jurymen was committed to prison and the verdict of the eleven was taken. In the reign of King Edward III. the judges decided that a verdict given by a majority was a nullity and recommended that the judges should carry the jury about with them in a cart till they should agree. The old custom that jurors should fast until they had agreed in their verdict prevailed long, but was mercifully relaxed somewhat in Tudor times, and during Queen Elizabeth's reign a banquet was usually given to the jury by the successful party to a suit—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Science and Cheese.

A medical authority kindly assures us that as long as cheese isn't decayed it will not affect the health of the consumer. This is a fact that we have suspected for a considerable time. But how is the ordinary cheese epicure to detect the difference unless he waits for results?

There is cheese so thoroughly disguised in the costume and aroma of decay that its proper standing on the sanitary testing table would puzzle a conjurer.

For instance, there is the brand known as Limburger.
But why pursue the subject?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Domestic Economy.

"Hey, mon," exclaimed the braw, bonnie north countryman, "thrift is a wonderful thing!"

"Yes," replied his English travelling companion. "You're right there. Now, I gave my wife a ten pound note to manage on last time I was away, and—would you believe it?—instead of exceeding it she saved nearly a sovereign out of it to buy herself a hat!"

"That's nowt," replied the Scotsman. "My wife gives the kids ba'pennies apiece to go to bed supperless; when they're asleep she takes the ba'pennies off 'em 'eagan, and then she makes 'em do without any breakfast for losin' 'em! Hey, mon, that's thrif!"—London Scraps.
